BOSTON — WorldCare International, Inc. (WorldCare), recently announced that Greg Arms, a recognized leader in both U.S. and international insurance sectors, will join the company as Senior Advisor.

Arms brings more than 30 years of expertise in the insurance industry to WorldCare, with experience in strategic planning, executive management, leadership, risk management and employee benefits. He currently holds Senior Advisor positions at eShare and MSH International, and he has held senior positions at Chubb Insurance and Marsh & McLennan Companies. He currently serves on the International Committee of the Self-Insured Institute of America (SIIA) and is an active participant at the National Foreign Trade Council (NTFC). Throughout his extensive career, he has lived and worked in the United States, the Middle East and Europe.

"I first got to know WorldCare almost twenty years ago as having a compelling, in-demand solution that enhanced access to superior medical care for individuals from virtually any location on the planet," said Arms. "So it's exciting to participate with them again now and to help shape their unique value proposition and go-to-market initiatives."

"With Greg joining the team, we look forward to expanding the scope and reach of our services and increasing access to the best healthcare for our clients and members worldwide," stated Hassan S. Sharif, President and Chief Operating Officer, WorldCare. "Greg has a proven track record of delivering results in the highly-competitive insurance services environment and we are excited to have him with us as Senior Advisor."

"Greg's career and experience in leadership roles in international insurance companies and employee benefits services will prove to be extremely valuable to WorldCare's continued growth and diversification." said Nasser Menhall, Chief Executive Officer, WorldCare. "We enthusiastically welcome Greg as an integral part of our senior team."
